DR. WINNARD BEGINS WORK IN TROPICO

Preaches First Sermon in Presbyterian Church That Called Him

TEXT PSALM 20:5

Outline Principles for Year of Successful Work in Glendale

At the Tropico Presbyterian church Sunday morning Dr. James T. Winnard preached his first sermon as pastor of that church to a large congregation, taking for his text Psalm 20:5, "In the name of our God we will set up our banner."

He outlined the four principles he believed necessary to make the work of the year a success, drawing on the blackboard the outline of a banner. He placed in its center the cross of Christ as a symbol of all that the church should stand for. Then by way of emphasis he outlined the four vital principles of faith, work, loyalty and sacrifice as necessary to bringing about the victory of the gospel of the sin of the world.

No one in the church, according to Dr. Winnard, can have enough faith or do enough work to excuse others from taking an active part in the program of the kingdom.

At this opening sermon he pleaded for a hearty co-operation of all the members of the church along these four lines that at the end of the year the banner may not only have the sign of the cross of sacrifice but the emblem of victory as well.

ALHAMBRA C. OF C. GETS GLENDALE EXPERT HELP

Harry C. Ellis, Former Realtor, Becomes Secretary of Body

ALHAMBRA, April 10.—The office of secretary of the Alhambra Chamber of Commerce which has been vacant for several weeks has been filled in the authorized installation of Harry C. Ellis, formerly of Glendale, to the secretary's chair in their headquarters at the City Hall building.

In an interview at the Federated News office Mr. Ellis gave briefly some of his life history and said he was not unfamiliar with this enterprising and fast growing city as he has lived in the neighboring city of Glendale for the past two years and has had considerable to do in chamber of commerce work for that city. He is a native of Minnesota, is 40 years of age, married and has a son 13 years old. He has been in chamber of commerce work in Minneapolis, Minot, North Dakota and San Benito, Texas. During the war he spent a year overseas in Y. M. C. A. work and was given the honorary rank of captain by Italy for his valuable post war work in that country.

He has been in California for only two years, having located in Glendale in the real estate business. During his residence there he had taken great interest in chamber of commerce activties in that city and has given to that body much of his valuable information on the advantages of Glendale and went east to circulate it and tell of the advantages of that city.

In coming to Alhambra Mr. Ellis says he knows he can carry out some of his progressive ideas here.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING IS POSTPONED

The barbecue and conference of Y. M. C. A. leaders which was to have been held at the home of David Black, president of the Y. M. C. A. council, Saturday evening, was postponed until after Easter because of the many conflicting engagements of members.

This week there will be many camping parties made up of Y. M. C. A. groups. One, under the leadership of Mr. Boyd, is now in the Antelope valley. Another group, of which Rev. Carl Seitter is leader, is leaving Tuesday morning for two days at the Pacific Palisades. They will be accompanied by Secretary Rex Kelley.

THEY KEPT HIS FIRE BURNING

DENVER, April 10.—M. V. Wilson told police that while he was away from home three weeks a family of strangers moved in, burned his fuel, ate his provisions and the head of the house wore his underwear. They left before Wilson's return.

Henry James Tonight Discusses the Case of Old Man Robber

No man of seventy, having been all his life in moderate circumstances, would be regarded as likely to profit by the theft of $90,000 says Henry James in his comment on the news of the day in discussing the case of the trusted employe who could not resist temptation. In his column he also alludes to dope peddlers, religious cults, fighting women, robberies and other incidents of daily life.

Dr. Frank Crane under the heading "Why Britain Keeps a King" discusses the reason.

James W. Foley in "The Listening Post" philosophizes about the waste of time that is consumed in quarreling over nonessentials.

There are excellent editorials, poetry, features by John Pilgrim and Della Stewart, scientific facts, eastern point of view and other interesting matter on the editorial page.

CAR CALL ISSUED FOR C. OF C. TRADE JUNKET

More Machines Needed for Motor Code Through San Fernando Valley

"More cars are needed for the Chamber of Commerce trade trip through the San Fernando valley, scheduled for April 19," is the message today from James M. Rhoades, secretary of the chamber of commerce to the merchants and professional men of Glendale. Mr. Rhoades said that he must have at least 50 cars for the trip and to date only 18 names have been signed to the list of cars offered. The names of the Glendalians who have offered automobiles for the trip to date are Roy L. Kent, George Carr, V. M. Hollister, Lloyd Wilson, Thomas D. Watson, James M. Rhoades, Dr. Albert Vack, E. U. Emery, Glendale News, William Howe, T. D. L. theatre, Steve Packer, J. J. Ferlin, Automobile Club, W. E. Hewett, J. G. Huntley, L. A. Rowley and Dr. C. P. Jackman.

This trip will be exactly what its name implies—a trade trip. All of the merchants of Glendale are invited to participate in an all-day journey through the San Fernando valley, Tujunga and Sunland. Stops will be made at every town and the members of the caravan will be given an opportunity to get acquainted with the business men of the neighboring towns. Luncheon will be served at the Porter Hotel in San Fernando.

Every business man making the trip will be allowed to distribute his cards or give away any novelty advertising that he may desire. A reception committee will be on hand in every town to give the travelers the glad hand.

The trip will start from the Chamber of Commerce in Glendale on Wednesday morning promptly at 8:30 a. m., and a schedule similar to the one followed by railroad lines will be adhered to. The schedule as arranged allows about 10 minutes in each town with the exception of San Fernando where the party will stop for one and one-half hours for lunch. Mr. Rhoades says that this schedule will have to be followed to the minute to make it possible to visit each town in the valley in one day.

Following is the schedule and program to be followed by the trade caravan: Leave Glendale at 8:30 a. m. April 19, arrive at Montrose at 8:45, La Crescenta at 9; arriving at Tujunga at 9:30, leaving Tujunga at 10; arriving at Suniand at 10:15, leaving Sunland at 10:45; arriving at San Fernando at 11:30. Lunch at Poter hotel Leave San Fernando at 1 p. m., arriving at Owensmouth at 1:45, leaving Owensmouth at 2; arriving at Marion at 2:15, leaving Marion at 2:30; arriving at Zelzah at 2:45, leaving Zelzah at 3, arriving at Van Nuys at 3:30, leaving Van Nuys at 4:15; arriving at Lankershim at 4:30, leaving Lankershim at 5; arriving at Burbank at 5:30, leaving Burbank at 6; arriving home at 6:30.

SUNRISE SERVICES AT GREEK THEATRE

The big ethical classic of the year, looked forward to by most of the people of the valley, is the Sunrise Easter Service held in the Owensmouth Greek Theatre, under the auspices of the Owensmouth woman's club.

Every one of the five preceeding services proved inspirational and a treat to those who attended, and the Sixth Annual Service which will be held Easter morning, April 16 beginning at 4:46 a. m. promises to be a most excellent one.

AMUNDSEN FLIES WEST

NEW YORK, April 10.—Captain Roald Amundsen, Polar explorer, left here this morning in the J. L. all-metal monoplane for Cleveland on the first lap of his continental flight.

The route to be followed on the transcontinental flight is from here to Cleveland, Chicago, Omaha, Cheyenne, Salt Lake City and Reno to Sacramenot and Seattle.

At Seattle the explorer will make final preparations for his five-year drift across the North Pole.

Blind Girl Plays Good Game of Bridge

Miss Susie Davis of Virginia City, Nev., astonished 350 women at a bridge party in San Francisco when she played an unerring hand despite her blindness. Miss Davis has been blind since childhood. She is a good typist, can knit and does all sorts of fancy work. Miss Davis runs a telephone exchange in her home town.

CITY BUS LINE WILL OPERATE SAY OFFICIALS

Councilmen Plan to Put Service on Despite Utilities Board

Although denied a permit to operate a bus line over the streets of Los Angeles and to establish a terminal in that city, by the board of public utilities, the city of Glendale is not defeated and has not given up the idea of operating a bus line between Glendale and that city. According to city officials this morning the city lost the first round but is preparing to come back strong for the second.

City officials intimated this morning that the city is at present preparing to start another fight for the bus line and the fight in preparation will be even stronger than the first. Along what lines the fight will be carried out was not indicated, it being said that the main task for the next few days would be "watchful waiting."

Several plans have been tentatively outlined by the officials in charge of the fight to operate buses between Glendale and Los Angeles at a lower transportation rate than is being charged at present over the Pacific Electric railroad but these plans have none of them been mentioned as the one on which the city will base its new fight. They have merely been cited as possibilities.

It is intimated that a new outline of the traffic situation in Glendale as it is today is in the process of preparation and when completed will offer an almost argument-proof case in favor of the granting of a permit to this city by Los Angeles for the operation of motor-buses between this city and Los Angeles.

BELGIUM ACCEPTS U. S. ARMY BILL

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The United States has received a reply from Belgium recognizing the claim for $241,000,000 to cover the costs of the American army of occupation in Germany, it was learned today at the state department. The note is preliminary as a joint note from all the allies concerned, which is to be dispatched later.

HIDDEN MUNITIONS KILL SOLDIERS

GLEIWITZ, Polish Silesia, April 10.—Twenty-three French soldiers weer killed and ten wounded in an explosion here, said to have been caused by ignition of a hidden munitions store. The French government has ordered an investigation to determine the responsibility of Germany for the disaster.

GERMANY REFUSES ALLIED CONTROL

PARIS, April 10.—A note from the German government in reply to the terms of the allied reparations commission, announces Germany's refusal to accept allied control of German finance, according to semi-offical sources this afternoon.

MRS. ASQUITH IS HOME

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., April 10.—Margot Asquith, wife of former Premier H. H. Asquith, arrived here today from her American tour with the announcement she was going to enter British politics.

She indicated she would probably run for parliament.

GLENDALE IS HOST TO 200 PROGRESSIVE DELEGATES FROM L. A. COUNTY CITIES

Suburban Day of Inter-City Organization Proves to Be Successful Event Despite Early Fog and Rain

MASS MEETING IS WELL ATTENDED

Municipal Bus Line Plans Are Given Enthusiastic Reception, Guests Pledging Their Undivided Support to the Movement

Glendale, through its mayor and other civic officials, on Saturday was host to some 200 prominent out of town visitors who were eager and elated participants in the celebration of Glendale's Suburban Day.

From early morning, when local delegates travelled to Los Angeles, where the program was inaugurated at the L. A. City club, to the termination at local High school auditorium, late Saturday evening, intense enthusiasm prevailed and Glendale had a Suburban Day never to be forgotten and undoubtedly will go down in city annals as history.

Suburban Day movement was brought about by the untiring efforts of Los Angeles City club members who are at all times keenly interested, and forever sponsoring movements whereby suburban cities may be helped in the solving of many of the perplexing questions that confront them daily.

Complete survey of the day's activities follows:

Led by Mayor Spencer Robinson, Councilmen Sam Davis, Lapham, Dr. Jessie Russell, M. Laundes, assistant secretary of the chamber of commerce, C. D. Gulick, the bus expert, the delegation journeyed to the Los Angeles City club at 11:30 a. m., where they joined the other delegates from suburban cities in luncheon.

The City Club banquet hall was filled to capacity; so was the speakers' table.

Mr. Wyllis Abbot was introduced by C. D. Gulick and in explaining the suburban day idea he said in part:

"Glendale has more members in the Los Angeles city club than any other suburban city and for this reason we decided to hold the first day in Glendale. Let us hope that this great movement will bring about the unison of some 75 suburban cities, which will give us all a say in the big and vital questions of the day, especially sewage and transportation, for they are no doubt the greatest issues that confront the municipal authorities in Los Angeles county today. Let us have a seat in the council of the great metropolis, Los Angeles, so that we may voice our sentiments in regard to these questions."

Mr. Abbot was warmly received and his talk was quite impressive. In turn he introduced Carol Arnovici, a specialist of community planning, who has traveled the country extensively, and at the present time is connected with the University of California in that body's city planning department.

In addressing the delegates he strongly urged all suburban cities to eliminate the competitive element and to put every effort forward to bring about a cooperation which will necessarily "put over" the big things. In dwelling on the harbor question he advised that instead of various cities trying to maintain and conduct a harbor individually, why not get together and produce a harbor that will be the world's greatest, for such can be done right here in Los Angeles county.

Mayor Robinson at this time suggested that Glendale be granted the privilege of forming such a harbor. His remark was fully digested and caused a hearty round of laughs.

Professor Melville Dozier of the Los Angeles school board, said that the support of that body was forthcoming. Hearty thanks was extended him for his unceasing efforts in bringing about the "suburban day movement."

Dr. George P. Clements, manager of the agricultural department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce was the next speaker. He stipulated that Glendale had the most wonderful scenic woodlands in the whole country and asked that adequate steps be taken to provide a means to save these beautiful forests in case of fire, which has become so rampant and of an annual occurrence. He strongly urged Glendale to provide a preventative and to attain this, a forest ranger and sufficient equipment should be posted in the immediate vicinity. A. D. Gulick then had the banquet hall darkened and had thrown upon the screen by means of the city club's projection machine, various designs of motor buses. As each one was displayed he explained in detail the various working units and to what purpose each could be used for. This was very interesting, in view of the fact that all were interested in "motorized transportation."

Mayor Robinson then extended a cordial invitation to everybody to come and see "the fastest growing city in America," and from the three or four loaded "original stage line busses" donated through the courtesy of that concern, and several private owned cars, that left Ninth and Olive streets, Los Angeles, en route to Glendale, his invitation was accepted by all.

Upon arriving in Glendale the party, led by the pilot car in which sat Mayor Robinson, Dr. Jessie Russell and other civic officials, proceeded to Kenneth Heights, from which point an unexcelled panoramic view may be had of Glendale. City Manager W. H. Reeves was present to greet the visitors and in a few brief words expressed his appreciation for the honor conferred upon Glendale in being host to such a wonderful group.

W. E. Evans, of the firm of Huntley & Evans owners of Kenneth Heights, outlined in detail the surrounding land and pointed out the various home and interesting features in connection with this tract.

John A. Merrill, pioneer real estate man, told from the luggage carrier of A. T. Cowan's car of how many years ago he was fortunate enough to purchase 308 lots in Glenddale at $49 each, which at that time was considered a high price. His holdings have all long ago been disposed of and he related how recently one of the lots brought him $35,000. Everybody expressed regrets that they did not buy in Glendale.

The entire party then started on a tour of the city which took some two hours but in which time every conceivable point was reached and nothing of importance was omitted. In spite of the rather inclement weather upon reaching beautiful Verdugo Woodlands the sun was shining and the wonders of that wonderland were dwelt upon by L. H. Myers of the F. P.

All For One--One For All

The East Glendale Improvement Association has accepted the suggestion of the Glendale Daily Press.

It is out for a petition for a sub-postoffice station to be located on the east side.

The petition is being framed.

Every improvement association of Glendale, and there are any number of them, should see that its entire membership is represented on that petition.

Not one name of the organized improvement forces of Glendale should be omitted from the paper.

Those who do not belong to the improvement associations should be solicited for their signatures by the members of the associations.

In this way the sub-postoffice may be attained for the east side of the city. It will show the harmony of all Glendale for any improvement. There would be nothing for the postoffice department to ponder over or congressmen to fight for.

The Glendale Press will have a copy of the petition. It pledges itself to its support.

It feels that the action of the East Glendale Improvement Association in uniting for the sub-station is another endorsement of its viewpoint as expressed in its editorials.

Lone Survivor of Miami Flying Boat Wreck

Despite the heroic efforts of Robert Moore to save his flying companions, three women and two men were drowned when his flying boat, Miss Miami, was wrecked off Bimini. The pilot, shown here, was the lone survivor of the fatal crash.

GORDON BEVANS IS VICTOR IN TEST OF ORATORY

Selected to Make Speech of Welcome to Boy Scout Charter

An interesting oratorical contest took place at Glendale high Saturday afternoon when representatives of boy scout troops of this city debated to determine to whom should be given the honor of making the speech of greeting during the ceremonies Thursday evening in connection with the receipt of the Verdugo hills charter, and Gordon Bevans was the victor.

There was a preliminary tryout between two boys of troop No. 3, Lyman Bosserman and Gordon Bevans, for the glory of representing that organization, and Gordon was the winner. The final list of contestants included Clifford Walcott of Glendale troop No. 2, Gordon Bevans of Glendale troop No. 3, Stuart Correll of Tujunga troop No. 1, Floyd King of Burbank troop No. 2.

Judges of the contest were Benjamin Robison and A. T. Cowan of this city, L. F. Collins of Burbank and Scout Executive Harold Benner. Their awards were based on three things—delivery, personal appearance and personality, and 100 points were allowed for each. Gordon Bevans won first place with Floyd King only four points behind.

Sessions are all open to the public. Resident pastors of Glendale churches are specially invited.

The love feast in the afternoon will be of special interest.

THE WEATHER

Southern California: Tonight and Tuesday fair.

Los Angeles and Vicinity: Fair tonight and Tuesday.

Hay Kellys Dawn on Glendale

The first harbinger of spring has made its appearance in Glendale and said harbinger wasn't a robin either. No, sir! Old Spring Harbinger this year took the form of a whole window full of straw hats displayed by a Brand boulevard clothing store.

The window full of "hay kellys" greeted the eyes of Glendale Friday and Friday night the weather turned colder. Can you beat that for a contrary weather man? Of course the fairer sex have been wearing spring hats and things for several weeks but that is no indication that spring is here. It merely means that father's bank roll has been "sprung."

A report has it that yesterday afternoon a straw lid appeared at Washington park for the afternoon baseball session and in the face of the chill winds that swept the park seemed slightly out of place and lonesome. Another report from Los Angeles alleges that a "cake eater," which is "flapperese" for the well-known lounge lizard, appeared at a local dance hall Saturday night in a pair of white flannels and that the girls refused to dance with him until he went home and finished dressing.

One thing we do know is that this morning walking down East Broadway was the first "barefoot boy" of the season and this fact coupled with the appearance of the straw "kellys" in the clothing store window gives us reason to announce "Spring has came."

INTRODUCING NEW SHRINERS TO GLENDALE

Novices Returned from Hard-Boiled Trip to Santa Barbara

We are introducing to Glendale today Nobles Thomas D. Watson, George Bentley and Elmer Jackson, newly initiated members of Al Malaikah Temple of the Mystic Shrine. Oh, yes, they are "regular" members of the Shrine now, having had the official ride on the goat at Santa Barbara, an unofficial ride on the rear of a Ford truck to Santa Barbara, n'everything.

What occurred in the mysterious fastness of the lodge rooms at Santa Barbara while the novices were making their journey across the burning sands to Mecca will never be known, but this much is known: One of the novices on the trip to Santa Barbara put one over on C. E. Neale and other Nobles. List to the story, in sooth, 'tis a good one. When the novices and Nobles left Glendale in the chill morning light Saturday the novices were placed on the rear of a Ford truck clad in what appeared to the layman to be "nighties" of the old-fashioned "slip-on" type. These novices were told that they would have to make the trip to Santa Barbara by truck. Novice Thomas D. Watson put one over on the Nobles by falling forward in a faint and when the members of the party rushed up to give first aid he arose laughing and proceeded to give the gang the "rawsberry."

W. C. T. U. COUNTY CONVENTION IN LOS ANGELES

Mrs. Marie Yeoman Heads Official Board; Glendale Represented

Faithful members of the local W. C. T. U., who, in company with similar organizations in other cities of Southern California, feel that they entered into the beginning of their reward for years of patient effort when the national prohibition law was enacted, are anticipating with pleasure the county convention to be held at Immanuel Presbyterian church in Los Angeles April 19, 20 and 21.

Glendale is extraordinarily well represented on the county official board, the president being Mrs. Marie Yeoman of this city, with Mrs. Lily Richardson of South Brand, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Louise Morton of North Louise, assistant recording secretary.

Outstanding features of a program of unusual interest are an open forum Wednesday afternoon, a reception Thursday afternoon and an address Thursday evening by Dr. Lincoln A. Ferriss, pastor of the First M. E. church of San Diego and celebrated as an orator.

EAST SIDE SUB-STATION IS SOUGHT

New District Improvement Association Adopts Press Suggestion

PETITION TO APPEAR

Seeks Advice as to Procedure from Postoffice Department

Members of the newly organized but enthusisatic East Glendale Improvement association of which C. W. Ingledue is president and Herman Nelson secretary, have adopted the suggestion of the Glendale Press that steps be taken without delay to secure a sub-station of the Glendale Post-Office in that rapidly developing part of the city.

A communication was dispatched to the Post-Office Department to ascertain just what procedure should be taken in the circulation of a petition and as soon as a reply is received the petition will be drafted and sent abroad on its mission.

It is too soon to assign any location to this sub-station but Mr. Nelson said it is generally understood by those most interested in the project that quarters adapted to such use will be available in a building to be erected which will have special provisions for a post-office.

It is hoped that ful linformation will be available when members meet Thursday noon for luncheon at the White Inn.

In connection with the petition the following letter received from Congressman Lineberger by Dr. Henry R. Harrower is of special interest.

Washington, D. C., April 3, 1922.
Dr. Henry R. Harrower,
Glendale, Cal.

My dear Dr. Harrower: Your individual telegram of March 31st and the one which you signed together with Mr. Nelson, Mr. Usilton and Mr. Stanley was received.

With reference to the location, which I understand has been select-

C. E. SOCIETY HAS PICNIC AT PARK

The Glendale Presbyterian Intermediate Christian Endeavor society had a marshmallow and weinie roast at Brookside park, Pasadena, Saturday. Autos left the church with the picnickers at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The plunge was open, which afforded fun for the boys and girls. After coming from the pool they played games and ended the picnic by roasting weinies and marshmallows. A short business session followed, and all were out of the park by 7:30 p. m. Thirty intermediates attended, including the superintendents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Brown, and visitors.

COMMUNITY SING AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH

Community sing at the First M. E. church tomorrow evening (Tuesday) at 7:45. The first part of "the sing" will be devoted to the old familiar songs. There will be special solo numbers and then the singing of the hymns of the Easter season. The "state sing" planned for it this time will be given in two weeks. Everybody welcome. Mrs. W. I. Widdows directing; Mrs. H. V. Brown at the piano.

JINGLING JAZZ OF THE NEWS

By Bert Marple

Suburban Day was one big time,
200 guests were present,
They painted Glendale brown,
and that's no lie;
The East Side wants a sub P. O.—
they're all 'het up" about it,
They say they'll either get it now or die.

The boy scouts set their flagpole that was given by A. A.
Barton,
They also plan their Easter hiking bee;
An Easter sunrise service on the Eagle Rock is promised;
Who hiked up the Tujunga?
Don't ask me.

Some gink across in Eagle Rock
sure made a whale of profit,
On one small lot he clears seven thousand beans;
More automobiles are needed in the C. of C. trade outing,
The Glendale booster knows just what that means.

Miss Moorehouse captures Wilson,
they will make their home in Glendale,
While Dr. Winnard makes his first address;

BURBANK NEWS

EDWARDS & WILDEY OFFER SUPPORT AT BURBANK

$100,000 Financial Aid Pledged to Legitimate Concerns

Financial assistance for industries desiring to locate in Burbank, is now assured through the authorized statement that Edwards & Wildey will assist in developing for Burbank any legitimate concerns to the extent of one hundred thousand dollars. Mr. Godfrey Edwards is authority for this information and this assistance was secured by the eforts of R. W. Colburn, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

Mr. Edwards said he was very much interested in Burbank and particularly in industrial Burbank, and that the company would partially and temporarily finance any concern that proved themselves to have a financial standing and good intentions, and the only stipulation was that the industry make a substantial first payment on the site and building.

Edwards & Wildey are one of the largest contracting firms in the southwest and that they will come to Burbank with such a proposition means a great deal to this city. It means that many concerns which lack perhaps only a few thousand may be located here, making use of a loan until they can be manufacturing on a paying basis and then repay the loan, thus owning entirely their plant, and the money then taken to partially assist another enterprise.

COMMERCIAL CLUB OF BURBANK IS REORGANIZED

New Officers Elected; Drive Put Forth for New Members

The Commercial Club has been partially reorganized, this being accomplished at the last meeting, and a spirit of new interest was injected into the future activities of the club. J. B. Watson was elected treasuer to fill the unexpired term of M. Spazier and the board of directors appointed a new house committee which it is thought will be efficient and interested to attend to their duties. The committee is composed of A. C. Fillbach, chairman; R. S. Dodge, J. L. Cochran, A. E. Dufer and W. D. Youngblood. These with the newly elected treasurer will hold office until the annual election in November.

Trade cards at $5 each were purchased by every member present that evening which indicates an expected attendance. It is expected to have an entertainment every Saturday night. Business meetings are held the first Wednesday night in each month, and a special meeting will be held next Wednesday night. The other officers are: R. O. Church, president; George Fraser, first vice president; J. D. Radcliff, second vice president; H. W. Rouscuf, secretary and A. C. Gage assistant secretary.

C. F. GREENMAN DIES OF HEART ATTACK

One of Burbank's Best Known Citizens Passes Wednesday

One of Burbank's bect known citizens died Wednesday afternoon at his home on Angeleno avenue when Charles F. Greenman failed to rally from an attack of heart trouble which seized him during the afternoon. He had suffered a number of these very severe attacks and had been in delicate health for a long time, but had been feeling as well as usual and ate his dinner as usual on Wednesday. Death come at 5:30 o'clock with his wife, son and brother at his bedside.

The funeral services were conducted Saturday morning from the undertaking parlors of A. C. Fillbach and the remains taken to Forest Lawn cemetery where the Grand Army Post was in charge of the services.

Mr. Greenman was a native of Fulton county, New York, being born there in 1845. He lived there until he was sixteen years old, when he went to Wisconsin. When still under age he enlisted in the war and was in a number of prominent engagements. Following the war he returned to Wisconsin but in 1867 moved to Minnesota where he farmed for five years. He then moved to Iowa where he remained for twenty-four years or until he came to California which was in 1895. He bought a vineyard in Antelope valley and cultivated it for two years then came to Burbank where he operated a restaurant for a time located on an unimproved ranch about a mile west of the city. Later he engaged in the real estate business which he followed until he retired from business life.

Mr. Greenman was three times married and had three children by his first wife. The near relatives who survive are his wife to whom he was married in October of 1918, his son, Wallace Greenman of Tujunga avenue, and a brother, W. A. Greenman of Washnigton, who arrived a few days ago because he knew his brother was in delicate health.

The deceased was a man of exceptional business judgment and tact and had accumulated extensive holdings. He was also a man of many friends and all will miss him and mourn his demise.

BURBANK TO HEAR BROAD-CASTED GRAND OPERA

Beginning Tuesday Druggist Lewis Will Hold Concerts in Store

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 3:30 in the afternoon one may hear grand opera and without a cent of expense which is a most unusual situation in connection with grand opera. The grand opera music at the Philharmonic, Los Angeles, will be broadcasted and the radiophone which Mr. Lewis has recently installed in his drug store will catch every note, and so one need only go to his store to hear these great singers.

Mr. Lewis has ordered a machine which will be even larger and better than the one he has just installed. It will be a three step amplifier with power amplification and automatic jack. All the dials and battery boxes will be in one cabinet which will add to the appearance.

MRS. JANE H. FARRAR

BURBANK, April 10.—Mrs. Jane H. Farrar died last Tuesday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Smith, 826 Angeleno avenue, after a steadily growing weakness. She had been a resident of Burbank for about twelve years having come here from Pomona. She is survived by four sons and three daughters. The sons are Charles W. and Chalmers H. residing on Palm avenue; James T. who lives near Roscoe; and William whose home is in Ohio. The daughters are Mrs. Smith, Miss Viola, who is a teacher in the grammar school and Mrs. Anne Campbell now living in Missouri but who is well known here, having been employed for a long time in the First National bank.

The funeral services were conducted from the home with A. C. Fillbach in charge and Rev. Stevenson officiating. The interment was made in Pomona.

Many a fine-looking path has tracks in it that were made by the cloven hoof.

The Hub of Humanity

—is what the Heads of this Worthwhile Institution have tried to make this mean to Glendale.

A Center of Repose—Rest—Quiet, a veritable fountain of health in the midst of the busy wheel of Life.

First, we would lay emphasis on the Thought which created this Monument to Posterity—building for permanency and comfort of its guests.

Spacious sunny verandas—a lovely vista of mountains and palm trees.

Scientific apparatus—Trained Attendants, combined with every detail of modern methods and years of experience.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We take pleasure in announcing the opening of our new office, TUESDAY, APRIL 11, at 114 EAST COLORADO BLVD., occupying the room in conjunction with the Hancock Music Company.

These are very pleasant offices, especially built for us, centrally located, where we will be able to handle business, and the interests of our clients and property owners to splendid advantage.

A cordial invitation is extended to visit OUR NEW HOME.

Our first office at 732 East Colorado will be closed, building moved, and we expect to start the erection of a store building shortly after the 15th of April.

Our Mr. Von Oven is manager of the Eagle Rock business, ably assisted by our Mr. Hoff.

We wish to express our satisfaction over the splendid business we have enjoyed during the few months we have established ourselves in Eagle Rock, and the outlook for the future from our new centrally located office is most promising.

That Eagle Rock is going to enjoy a great year of building prosperity and increase of population we confidently believe.

EAGLE ROCK P. T. A. SEEK ATTRACTIVE SCHOOL NAMES

Propose That East and West End Be More Dignified

At the monthly meeting of the Central Parent-Teacher association Wednesday afternoon, in the light and airy kindergarten room of the new building on the school grounds the suggestion was made that the names of the East End and West End schools be changed to something more dignified, in view of their rapid growth in size. Superintendent Harwood stated that the school board would first ascertain whether a change could legally be made, pointing out that the schools were recorded by their present names in the county books. He further stated that in 1920 the percentage of growth in the number of pupils, over the previous year, was 16 per cent, in 1921 it was 46 5-10ths per cent and, estimating by the three months of this year just passed, the year 1922 would show an increase of 53 6-10ths per cent over 1921. These figures, he thought, could not be surpassed by those of any other community of equal size in the United States.

A large table in the room was covered with many varieties of wild flowers, gathered at Laguna, where the encroachment of homes on the hillsides has not, as in Eagle Rock, created a scarcity of the blooms which were once like a glowing carpet of color in the spring time. Mrs. E. H. Eberhart, who is an enthusiastic botanist and despite her years has searched Catalina Island and other out-of-the-way places for additions to her classified list of flowers and grasses, gave an interesting talk about the specimens exhibited. Among them were purple nightshade, tidy-tips, mustard, wild turnip, wild radish, crucifera, owl's clover, lupines, brodias, wild onions, sunshine, scarlet bugler, four o'clocks, yellow forget-me-notes, windmill pinks, wild cyclamen, and pimpernel. She had with her some beautifully painted sketches of other flowers, a part of her remarkable collection of over 500 varieties, which she has prepared with the intention of some day turning it over to a museum or library. Mrs. Eberhart is a member of an artistic family. Her daughter has taken a prize in the Laguna art gallery for a picture, and her son-in-law is the well-known landscape and marine artist, Arion Putnam, who has studios in Los Angeles. They reside on east Hill avenue, Eagle Rock.

BIRD ROCK CLUB ENJOYS WEEKLY DANCES

Young People of Valley Invited to Join Organization

The Bird Rock club, of which Mr. Yorick of the Hancock Music company, which will open for business next Tuesday, is the head and front, has for some time been enjoying weekly social dances in the women's clubhouse, with an increasingly large attendance. They are open to the young people of the valley. The dance of last Saturday night, though advertised as of an April fool nature, had nothing deceptive about it, but was unique in some of its features. There were decorations of mustard blossoms, acacias, and white roses, and the lighting effect of a soft rose color, productd by the use of crepe paper shades, was charming. Favors were given, and a prize of a box of candy presented by the Rutledge Sweep Shop was awarded the last couple on the floor in the elimination dance. There were a hundred present, many of them from Los Angeles and Pasadena. The Sweet Shop, in the new Roach block, will hereafter remain open until after the dances Saturday evenings, to accommodate those wishing refreshments.

EAGLE ROCK LADIES ATTEND P. T. A. MEETING

District Well Represented at District Conference at Glendale

A delegation of members of the Parent-Teacher associations in Eagle Rock attended the district conference in Glendale on Tuesday of this week. They were Mrs. Walter H. Dorrance, president of the Central association; Mrs. C. E. Jones, president of the East End organization; Mrs. H. W. Baly, president of the West End P.-T. A.; Mrs. A. G. Reily, Mrs. Kirk, Mrs. L. M. Maynard, Mrs. F. H. Lerchen, Mrs. A. H. Boyce, and Mrs. Thompson.

A man usually gets what he deserves in the end, but he gets a lot of good things that he doesn't deserve in the mean time.

HANCOCK MUSIC CO. OPENS AT EAGLE ROCK

Live Manager from Los Angeles to Have Charge of Store

The Hancock Music company will open a store at 114 East Colorado street, Eagle Rock, tomorrow and will soon be numbered among the liviest establishments in that city. This store will be operated by Milton T. Hancock, who for several years was associated with his brother in the Hancock Music company in Pasadena. While in the Crown city Mr. Hancock had his eyes on Eagle Rock. Its phenomnal growth and its unusual business opportunities appealed strongly to him, and as a result he severed his connection with the Pasadena store and decided to open this new music house in Eagle Rock.

While connected with the Pasadena store Mr. Hancock was instrumental in securing for Pasadena a number of leading musical artists of the country, and it is his intention to acomplish a like scervice for Eagle Rock. From time to time during the next few months and years The Hancock Music company will bring to Eagle Rock some of the world's leading artists who will perform on the Knabe piano, which is handled by this concern.

This concern has been successful in securing a long term lease on one of the most picturesque sites in Eagle Rock, upon which there now stands a store that reflects credit to the community. Mr. Milton Hancock is a new resident in this city, having moved here recently with his family. He expdesses his entire satisfaction with every phase of this city. He states that he will endeavor to give Eagle Rock a music store that will be second to no suburban music store in Southern California.

This new Eagle Rock establishment has a finish de luxe throughout. The walls are finished in ivory with panels of tiffany, and draperies of black and gold. The phonograph room will be comfortably equipped with rockers and floor lamps, the intention being to give it the appearance of home. This store will also handle the Ampico reproducing piano, the Brunswick phonograph, stringed instruments, sheet music, etc.

$10,000 OFFERED FOR LOT THAT COST $2500

Illustration of Advanced Values in Eagle Rock Realty

Mrs. Emma Roach has sold her lot at the northeast corner of Colorado boulevard and Satsuma avenue, for $3500. She has also sold the two lots at 548 East Colorado boulevard, to W. J. MacDonald, who is building a block of six stores on the boulevard between Central and Castle avenues. Illustrating the big jump in values of property in the business district of Eagle Rock, a lady who some time ago purchased for $2800 one of the lots east of the library which have just been leveled by the steam shovel, has been offered $10,000 for it.

EAGLE ROCK MEN ASSEMBLE AT CHURCH

Congregationalist Ladies Prepare Fine Meal for Business Folks.

Called together by the pastor for sociability and a discussion of church matters, about 50 representative men of Eable Rock, in business and the professions, sat down last Tuesday night to one of the most toothsome dinners ever prepared by the ladies of the Congregational church. It was wholly a men's banquet, a scene of informality and jollity. There was a program of short talks, humorous stories, comic songs, etc. Shirley Allen, proprietor of the new lumber yard, sung two solos; Charles C. Reynolds, who combines a natural gift of poesy with his business as an undertaker, recited some of his verses; R. L. Ryder, for 38 years freight agent of the Southern Pacific Railyway company, in Los Angeles, told about his coming to California in the early eighties and what he found here; Alfred Heslop set everybody laughing with his recitations, others added their bit to the pleasure of the evening. Finally George Hale, a contractor, gave information regarding the cost of raising the church building, as there is some thought of doing, to secure room for class and social rooms beneath. Owing to the recently defined fire zone, the additional space needed cannot be constructed of wood, the material with which this bungalow church was built.

GUTHRIE COMPANY OPENS OFFICES AT EAGLE ROCK

Glendale Organization to Hold Public Reception Here Tomorrow

The Charles B. Guthrie company, probably the largest suburban real estate concern in this part of the country, will take possession of its new office at 114 East Colorado boulevard, Eagle Rock, tomorrow. In connection with this office this company says:

"There are very pleasant offices especially built for us, centrally located where we will be able to handle business and the interests of our clients and property owners to splendid advantage. A cordial invitation is extended ot the public in general. Our former office at 732 East Colorado, will be closed, building moved, and we expect to start the erection of a store building on the porperty.

"Mr. Von Oven is manager of the Eagle Rock office and he will be assisted by Mr. Hoff. We wish to express our satisfaction over the splendid business we have enjoyed since establishing ourselves in Eagle Rock and for the outlook for the future.

"That Eagle Rock is going to enjoy a great year of building prosperity and increased population we confidentially believe."

The Eagle Rock branch of Charles B. Guthrie is one of a series of offices which cover this entire section, the main office being located at 103½ South Brand boulevard, Glendale. This company has been doing business in Glendale, Eagle Rock, Burbank and the entire San Fernando valley for years and is one of the best known realty firms in this section.

EIGHT CANDIDATES IN EAGLE ROCK ELECTION

Contest for Trustee Set for Today to Fill Three Vacancies

On Monday, April 10, the election for three city trustees will take place, the polls remaining open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m. There are eight candidates for the three vacancies on the board. Following are the names: Robertson Abbot, Cromwell Galpin and Martin V. Shaff, who are candidates for re-election; Sherrill B. Osborne, Elmer M. Bergsvik, Harry B. Crawford, George C. Mattison, George C. Fetters. The completition promises to be quite lively.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB ENTERTAINS LADIES

Eagle Rock ladies who attended the luncheon and reception given on Wednesday by the Shakespeare club in Pasadena, in honor of Mrs. Milton H. Higgins, national president of the Mothers' Congress and Parent-Teachers' association, at the quarters of the club, were Mrs. A. G. Reily, Mrs. W. H. Dorrance, and Mrs. Hal Baly, of the local P.-T. A.

During the reign of peace on earth most nations are plotting to secure another piece of it.

Pugnoses and bad pennies are always sure to turn up.

P. T. A. FEDERATION OF EAGLE ROCK IS FORMED

Three Units of City Draw Together at Meeting

The three Parent-Teacher associations now existing in Eagle Rock held a joint meeting in the annex to the Central school building on Friday, March 31. Mrs. J. B. Rowe, of Pasadena, state extension chairman of the P.-T. A., presided and explained the purpose and work of federations. She also outlined the duties of the officers in a federation. Those present voted to federate and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. A. G. Reily; vice-president, Frs. Walter H. Dorrance; secretary, Mrs. A. H. Boyce; treasurer, Mrs. A. G. Bailey; auditor, Mrs. W. Caziare, historian; Mrs. Edith J. Parker. This list is representative of all parts of the city. A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws. The meetings of the federation will be on the fourth Wednesday of each month. The first one, on April 26, will be open to the public. The intention is to have open meetings once in three months.

ed by the Post-Office Department, I wish to reiterate the position I have taken from the beginning, to wit, that this is a matter for the people of Glendale and the post-office authorities to decide. I have never been down to the post-office nor have I talked with any of the officials concerning this matter except to telephone them and give them information such as was contained in the two mesages above referred to.

Mr. Nelson wrote me several times concerning the matter and I have repeatedly told him that if he wished to protest against any location or urge any particular one, that he take it up with the Department directly or forward his communication to me and I would see that they reached the proper official. In view of the many times I have told him this I cannot understand why when anything is done by the Department the blame for any action of the Department is laid at my door.

Mr. Evans told me when he was here that he had presented a petition to the Department signed by a number of leading business men, had shown them maps and photographs of the site at Glendale and Wilson avenues and also photographs taken at the corner of Brand and Broadway, as well as an airplane view of the city. I believe he left these with the Department. Mr. Evans also told me that he was not interested in any particular location except that it was his desire and that of the people whom he represented to have the post-office within a radius of two blocks of Brand and Broadway which, I understand, is the main business section of the city.

I do not know who is erecting the building on the site selected by the Department. If he is a grocer from Los Angeles with a chain of stores it is news to me. I only know that eight sites were offered and that the inspector listed them in the order in which he recommended them. I regret to have apparently not been able to make my position of this clear to Mr. Nelson and the others but I trust that with this information you will be able to do so.

Thanking you for giving me the benefit of your views in the matter and with kind regards, I am,

Yours very truly,
WALTER F. LINEBERGER.

GLENDALE FILM STAR IN PERSON AT T. D. & L.

Georgia Woodthorpe Appears During "The Song of Life"

Georgia Woodthorpe, the great emotional screen artist, star of the feature film, "The Song of Life," attended the performance of this picture at the T. D. & L. theatre Saturday night, accompanied by several of her friends. At its conclusion the actress was as much surprised as the rest of the audience who crowded the theatre when the house was silenced and Ralph Allan addressed the audience, speaking with reference to Miss Woodthorpe. Of course it had all been pre-arranged by Miss Woodthorpe's friends—this little surprise—but that was one of the things which made it all so delightful. Mr. Allan said: "You have just witnessed the feature picture, 'The Song of Life,' in which Georgia Woodthorpe (Mrs. Wm. Wallace), the famous screen mother, portrayed the leading role. Miss Woodthorpe is a resident of Glendale and is in this theatre now with many of her friends and admirers who have come to pay her homage. At this he raised on high a large bouquet of beautiful flowers. Continuing, Mr. Allan said: "These flowers are for Miss Woodthorpe from her friends who have asked me to make the presentation which gives me very great pleasure so to do. I am not going to ask Miss Woodthorpe to go upon the stage but I am going to ask the little lady to stand up so everyone may see her—one of the greatest emotional actresses of the silent drama—Georgia Woodthorpe."

Miss Woodthorpe, visibly surprised, graciously rose. Immediately a spot light flooded her in a burst of golden light. In her black gown with silver throw, her arms filled with the beautiful flowers and her great mass of snow-white hair she made a picture wonderful to look upon. The audience broke out with a thundering applause. It lasted fully several moments. It all was a great triumph—a great tribute to a most talented artist—a tribute to Georgia Woodthorpe herself. And now everyone wants to know when her next picture is to be shown.

GLORIA SWANSON AT T. D. & L.

Glorian Swanson has fully established the claim to being one of the best dressed women on the screen and at the T. D. & L. Theatre, this week, she has offered fuller and more conclusive proof, for she is playing the title role of a picture, which has as its central theme, the beautiful dressing of a beautiful woman. This picture is "Her Husband's Trademark," a Paramount production, and its theme is founded on the strange creed of a man, who believed that a show of wealth would attract wealth, and believing thus, gowned his wife in a most extravagant fashion. But he built his creed on a false assumption and his plans came tumbling down with such completeness that they resulted in his death. It all makes a strangely unusual story, forceful, dramatic, tense. As an example of the lavish dressing of one woman, the central character, it has seldom, if ever, been equalled and Gloria Swanson is surely a perfect wearer of gowns in addition to her undoubted ability as an actress.

THE RED DOG WASN'T A TATTLE-TALE

By JOHN BARTON

(Copyright, 1921, by Associated Newspapers)

"Yes-s?" the tremendous goose spoke in a hoarse hiss. "You two were saying—" He waited, frowning for some one to answer him.

The red dog looked uncomfortably at the smaller goose, the flock guard who had chased him into the Pickery Things, and the bird half opened his broad bill, but closed it again; he seemed to have lost his voice. Nor did the dog blame the poor fellow. This must be the biggest bird of all, and the most important. "I was just telling him I'm Louie Thompson's Pal," he found himself saying. "And this is Dr. Muskrat's Pond, and—and—I don't think he'll like the way your flock is behaving in it; it makes him mad to have the mud stirred up." Not a single word about their quarrel.

The great bird's beak tightened at the corners. He didn't need telling; he had overheard every last word. "Very well, I'll see that it settles down," was all he replied. "But if yuo see the doctor before we do will you please say that the Gray Ganders have a message from Mahng the Loon?"

As he flew off his terrible frown dissolved in a broad grin. "That fool of a guard deserves a trouncing," he cackled to himself. "The very idea of picking a fight with Dr. Muskrat's friends. But if the dog won't complain about him I don't see how I can punish him." And once more he turned his sharp ear to his listening.

"Who was that?" Pal asked in an awed tone. "Your Leader?"

"Wild Winds, no! Our leaders lead—there are a whole line of them who take turns. But they never bother with us stripe-necks. (A stripe-neck is a young bird who hasn't the white necktie of the grown-up's uniform.) He's one of the Flight-guides who keep us winging in proper lines so each one breaks the wind for the one behind. He's awfully severe. I say, Dog, it was very nice of you not to tell him I nipped your tail."

"Sho, that was nothing." Pal took to wagging it. "Any one's likely to get excited in fighting season. All I don't like is those spurs you folks wear on your wings."

Back in the willows the great Flight-guide was chuckling softly. "Severe, am I? Oh, these young things, these young things, they will stand up for each other no matter what kind of a coat they're wearing. Now what's coming?"

For Pal was saying, "I guess I could find Dr. Muskrat for you, now that I know why you want him." He put up his nose and called, "Yow yow-w-w-w, Yip-yow-w!"

Truths in Epigram

As the diamond is the crystalline Revelator of the achromatic white light of Heaven, so is a perfect poem the crystalline revelation of the Divine Idea.—Chivers (1807-1858).

Rise with the lark, and with the lark to bed.—Hurdis (1763-1801).

Our sympathy is cold to the relation of distant misery.—Gibbon (1737-1794).

AN AGE OF SPEED

In a recent test of a new type of automobile, the machine was driven five miles in a fraction under two minutes, and ten miles in a fraction under four minutes. Each one of these records exceeds any ever before made. Such speed is of course an amazing spectacle. Could the learned gentlemen of generations ago, who believed that the human frame could not withstand the rigors of thirty miles an hour, appear to witness it, doubtless they would hurry back to the safety of the tomb, highly disturbed.

However, the utility of such a speed may be questioned. There is no highway in the world on which it would be tolerated. There is hardly an imaginable condition that could call for it. A wreck of the machine would mean extermination of passengers, and widespread damage. Such a rate could be maintained only on a specially constructed track known to be clear of all other traffic. Nevertheless there will be efforts to break the astounding records, and there is none to say that such efforts may not succeed.

One great trouble with the automobile in ordinary use now is the mania of drivers for going fast. They hurry when all need for hurrying is absent. They are reckless of human lives and of their own. There are few able to refrain at all times from exacting the utmost that the machine is capable of yielding. This passion breaks laws, breaks bones, creates a wholly unwarrantable peril, and is lacking in any form of benefit.

EUROPE'S ONE HOPE

Prof. Edward A. Steiner, familiar with conditions in Europe, says that its people are in a state of collapse; that Europe is dying, because it has lost faith in its ideals. He adds: "There is no possibility of recovery until the strife, hatreds and discords which exist among the various European peoples and nations can be wiped out."

This is exactly the sentiment that often has been expressed by travelers returned from the other side. They have spoken with a less authority than that of the distinguished professor, who is one of the most profound among students of sociology. They have based their opinions on casual observation, while he has been taught through acute and prolonged research.

"America is the only hope of Europe," he concludes. "In this country we can help by showing that our ideals are real, living things, and that our democracy does work."

Such an appeal to the collective conscience could not fail of effect. It reaches millions who are in mood to receive it. The course of the United States in entering into agreements designed to promote peace, and by promoting peace, open a way to revive industrial enterprise, is strictly in accord with the suggested policy. Whatever opportunity may await a world that is safe from the menace of war, there surely is small chance for a world poised and ready to meet the onslaught of armed foes.

Great wisdom, fine consideration, abundant exercise of generosity, are demanded. The United States is in position to set an example, and to set it without fear. Safe in its own strength, it can afford to extend aid and comfort to the less fortunate overseas.

THE REAL BOOTLEGGER

The bootlegger is turning out to be a beggar on horseback. Galloping towards affluence, he could not resist the temptation to ride his spirited mount to death. As he is tumbled from the saddle, his real character is revealed. Far from being the friend of his patrons, assauging with liquor of fine quality, the thirst of which they feared they were to perish, he is a hypocrite. He has no hesitency in selling poison. His conscience does not check the impulse to mark the poison with lying labels. He never shies at the chance to fortify its aspect of respectability under a plaster of counterfeit revenue stamps. Thus he is at once a thief, murderer, forger and liar. He is bringing about his own undoing. Even if the authorities fail to catch him, his customers are deserting him. They still are conscious perhaps of an annoying aridity within, but they prefer to suffer and stay in the land of the living. The orgy that has its sequel in the cemetery has lost all appeal.

It would appear that the bootlegging fraternity was about to eliminate itself. Doubtless there are many generally law-abiding citizens who would, could they do so safely, waive the obligation to abide by the terms of prohibition. They will not long continue to run the risk. Some of them will be dead, naturally, and the others, returning subdued from the funerals of their late jovial friends, will have gathered a restraining wisdom.

Depravity as displayed by the bootlegger has been a depressing show. Nobody marvelled at attempts to evade the restrictions, but wonder at the brutal criminality of the active instruments in this operation never has ceased.

DESPICABLE IN DEFEAT

The axiom that every man has a right to his opinion, probably is as trite as any extant. It applied even to Hearst in relation to the four-power treaty. Nevertheless he was condemned. He was condemned because nobody could conceive of deeps of stupidity so profound as could cause Hearst to entertain the beliefs he expressed with such emphatic virulance. Nothing could be discerned in his attitude but a malign determination to cause trouble. His insulting aspersions, his spurious arguments, his bogus and hectic patriotism, his substitution of inuendo for fact and of lies for logic, became so disgusting that protest was general. It was not a protest against his opinion. It was a protest against his pretense that even his mind could entertain beliefs so base. Had he been sincere in his pronouncements, the country might have had patience with his folly, ascribing it to an unfortunate mental bias.

The methods of Hearst in defeat are as despicable as those marking his campaign. The four-power treaty he now designates as the Balfourpower pact. Doubtless some of his smart young men suggested this play on words. The very use of the term in his papers is an insolence, a studied affront to American statesmen, and to friendly nations. The pact was written by Secretary Hughes. Whatever benefits it bestows—and these are many—they fall alike to America and Great Britain. The newspaper writer who declares that by this pact Great Britain is accorded any degree of mastery over the United States, does not speak in ignorance. He speaks out of the depths of an unreasoning hatred. So doing he becomes a disgrace to American journalism. Rather, he accentuates in this instance, the circumstance of being a disgrace.

Bank robbers are warned officially and with the appearance of earnestness, that they are to expect no quarter from the sheriff's men. Perhaps this will fail to harrow up the minds of the robbers. They had not been wont to expect quarter. Their hope, generally realized, has been to evade contact with the established authorities, to whose intentions they remain indifferent. A saw-off shotgun speaks louder than words.

The young son of a wealthy Pittsburg manufacturer is discovered to have three and perhaps four, until recently, trusting wives. Any tendency to condone his offense would be against morals, and thus against public policy. At the same time, the extra wives do not constitute a very strong call for sympathy. The practice of marrying a stranger and getting acquainted with him later is wholly without merit.

The plan of fighting frost by the use of hot air blown across the threatened area is now in an experimental stage. Should it prove to be practical, the value of it would be tremendous. This end of California is not troubled much by visitations of frost, but they do come with damaging severity at intervals of years, and experience with them is costly.

A strong suspicion of tampering with a jury has been aroused. Such tampering of course is not to be tolerated. The jury has a hard enough time to preserve its judgment, and with reasonable calm, to weigh the evidence, without having to contend with outside pressure.

A man has no right to be satisfied unless he has done his best.

He who hustles has no time for envy.

WHY BRITAIN KEEPS A KING

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Surely nobody wishes the young Prince of Wales or the newly married Princess Mary, or their brothers, or parents, or grandparents, or their "sisters and their cousins and their aunts" anything but the best of luck and all happiness.

DR. FRANK CRANE

Americans who attended the wedding of the princess, and even those who mingled with the street crowds and witnessed the tremendous outburst of popular sentiment, must have viewed the whole affair sympathetically and have felt glad that the British people were enjoying themselves heartily in their own way.

But down in the bottom of his mind the American visitor could not help wondering why in the world these hard-headed Britishers get so excited over a royal family, and also how long this sort of a thing is going to last.

Of course it cannot keep up forever. The present royal family are rather a decent lot and are studiously behaving themselves and trying to live up to what is expected of them, which indeed must be rather difficult. But in the nature of the case in the course of several generations some king is going to come along who will kick over the traces and make trouble. When that time comes the British public will very probably bundle up its royal family and send it packing, although with many expressions of regret.

The real, main, strong and tap root reason why Great Britain maintains its monarchy is because it always has.

Doing a thing because we always have done it, and because our fathers, and fathers' fathers did it before us, is probably nowhere in the world so strong a principle as it is in Great Britain, unless it be in China. This is not entirely a bad thing. It gives a state a certain stability. Things stay put. You don't live in constant fear that you will wake up some morning with your throat cut by some bunch of revolutionists in the name of Liberty, Equality and Fraternity. In England more than anywhere else the saying of Montaigne is appreciated, that "The oldest and best known evil was ever more supportable than one that was new and untried."

Another reason why Great Britain clings to her kings is that its government is not quite like any other government that ever existed. It has no birthday. There is no particular time when it began. Like Topsy, it just grew. It has no written constitution. Its law, so called "common law," is a mere crystallization of custom.

Besides this it has no colonies or dominions or protectorates which really belong to it, with the exception of a few scattered islands in the ocean.

The parliament of Great Britain has no authority over its possessions except as an advisory body. Canada, Australia, South Africa, India or Egypt do not "belong" to Great Britain. These countries govern themselves and would resent any interference with their internal affairs by London.

The monarchy is the totem or symbol that holds all this "Commonwealth of Nations" together.

Of course they might be held together as a federation after the manner of the United States, but that is not their way. They like kings. That is the gist of the whole matter. They have what they want.

THE LISTENING POST

A crew of sailors were shipwrecked.
And came upon an island.
That was green and fertile.
A kind of oasis island in an angry and stormy sea.

Shipwrecks were once not uncommon.
And the casting of crews upon strange lands not an unusual incident of voyaging.
Not so much today.
For the seas are more traveled and we have wireless with which to send messages broadcast.

The shipwrecked crew of which we make this Listening Post lost their ship.
And their stocks of food went into the sea.
And they were marooned upon the island with nothing but the resources it afforded them.

The first thing they needed was food.
That is the thing upon which all of life first depends.
The most important thing in the world.
The loaf of bread has more of real value than a ton of gold.
When it comes to sustaining life.

So the members of the castway crew went forth to search.
And they returned after a time bearing food.
That grew wild upon the island.
And they sat down with their discoveries.

One of them displayed his treasure.
And another and then another.
Each bringing the same thing to the feast.
A kind of fruit.
And they knew from their experience and travel that it was nourishing and delicious.

One said: "I have a bread fruit."
And another said: "No. It is a plantain."
And a third said: "No. It is a species of banana."
For the fruit they had might have been any of these things, depending on how you thought about it.

Then they fell into argument.
And dispute.
They differed loudly and with anger.
And grew worse and worse.
Until they were all furiously angry.

And eventually they fell into groups.
There was a Plantain group.
And a Breadfruit group.
And a Banana group.
And they hurled adjectives at each other.
There were cries of liar and cheat and fool.
Until they came to blows.

And the Plantain group swore the other groups should eat nothing until they admitted the fruit to be plaintain.

And the Banana group swore by the great horn spoon the Plantain group should not eat a bite until they admitted the fruit to be banana.

And the Breadfruit group said they would all go to Davy Jones' locker before either of the others should have food until they admitted it to be a breadfruit.

And while they wrangled and fussed and quarreled and struck blows the food lay on the ground unused.
Good food going to waste.
Because of an inability to agree as to its name.
And the kind of fruit it was.
Although they all knew it was good.

And eventually they separated into different camps.
The Plantain camp ate plantains.
And the Banana camp ate bananas.
And the Breadfruit camp ate breadfruit.
But it was all from the same tree.

* * *

And a Philosopher among them said: "Why not get together and call it Food? Why should we fight about names when it is nourishment and strength we want."

And the moral is that it makes little difference what the name of the thing is if it is nourishing and refreshing and strength giving.
And that we all of us waste a lot of time quarreling over non-essentials.

JAMES W. FOLEY.

SONGS OF THE POETS

The Voice—Norman Gale (1862——)

As I went down the hill I heard
The laughter of the countryside;
For, rain being past, the whole land stirred
With new emotion, like a bride.
I scarce had left the grassy lane,
When something made me catch my breath:
A woman called, and called again,
Elizabeth! Elizabeth!

It was my mother's name. A part
Of wounded memory sprang to tears,
And the few violets of my heart
Shook in the wind of happier years.

Quicker than magic came the face
That once was sun and moon for me;
The garden shawl, the cap of lace,
The coolie's head against her knee.

Mother, who findest out a way
To pass the sentinels, and stand
Behind my chair at close of day,
To touch me—almost—with thy hand,
Deep in my breast, how sure, how clear,
The lamp of love burns on till death!—
How trembles if I chance to hear
Elizabeth! Elizabeth!

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

CALL FOR THE BIG STICK

[Manchester Union]

It is daily becoming more apparent that President Harding, much as he may dislike it, must take down from the wall the Big Stick which, since the Fourth of March, one year ago, has been accumulating dust, and begin to brandish it over the head of congress, if so palpably headless a body may be said to have a head. The President has certainly demonstrated to the country's entire satisfaction that he has no desire to trespass upon legislative preserves.

But congress has also been busy, disclosing its acute need of presidential leading strings. While the President has satisfied everybody that he has no intention of dictating to an equal and co-ordinate branch of the government, congress has likewise satisfied everybody that if it was to get anywhere, do anything, or be saved from making a fool of itself, it must be dictated to by somebody. Happily, or unhappily, we have no Mark Hanna, or Nelson Aldrich, within congress itself to do the dictating, so this puts it up to the only outstanding leader we have, the President.

Apparently the sole remedy for this situation is the prompt assumption of party leadership in congress by the President. The country believes in Harding, assesses very highly his achievements to date as an executive, and is ready to follow his lead. Unquestionably the President and the public together can bring some semblance to orderly procedure out of the mess in the capitol. The public is all ready. It only waits the word from the President. That cannot be delayed much longer if defeat in the fall is to be avoided.

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA STEWART

A certain male anti-suffragist, in lecturing, is attributing present-day perils that confront the American home to the recently won ballot for women. Participation in politics, he thinks, will inevitably disrupt family life and teach contempt for its duties.

It may, of course. There is always a possibility. But if it does it will be because women do not rightly gauge the value of the new responsibility. The ballot used as a sex influence instead of a human affair is bound to work dissension. The feeling of some new voters that men are the natural enemies of women and must be fought against with the new weapon is bound to result in bitter opposition from experienced fighters.

The interests of men and women are inextricably mixed. They cannot long be divided. It is for both to work for the family and the home, units of any sane society. The newcomers can not expect that all receive them with full approbation. They have to prove themselves, and it is not particularly strange that men find it hard to divide justly the power so long held by them alone.

But both working together, the newcomers showing their fitness by their wisdom and sanity in these first trying years of readjustment, all can do vastly more than by wrangling for more power at the very beginning. Men, as a rule, are not over-fond of responsibility. If they become assured that a woman can do well the thing they have been shouldering, they are generally most willing to allow her to shoulder the burden! We need to remember this before striving for too many of their former prerogatives!

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

The story is familiar now of the old man, a trusted employee of a bank, who stole $90,000. When the crime had been discovered he made full confession. In all he said there was nothing that seemed to constitute ground for condoning his offense, unless the tale established a theory of senile dementia.

HENRY JAMES

When a man of seventy feels an impulse to win the smiles of young women, it may be he is weak mentally rather than morally. Anybody whose brains are not addled knows that young women do not smile on the venerable male outside the pale of relationship, through any impulse of affection.

If any old man gets a contrary notion in his head, a little sober reflection possibly would set him right. Let him conjure up for instance, the spectacle of a boy in the early twenties, falling in love with a woman of seventy. Such a picture would have presented to the old man in this instance a case of precisely the status of his own.

No man of seventy, having been all his life in moderate circumstances, would be regarded as likely to profit by the theft of $90,000, or any other sum. He wouldn't know what to do with it, and would be prone, it may be assumed, to toss it around in the absurd fashion which brought betrayal to this old and silly dupe.

"Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing?" This question has the dignity of age, and yet it is applicable to conditions now. In this instance it is addressed to Senator Borah. The reason is that he says Japan is stirring up a row with Russia, and that the United States may become involved, owing to the four-power pact.

If Borah does not know better than this, he might learn something by reading the terms of the pact.

Reports come from San Jose concerning a religious cult that has headquarters near there. The followers of the faith discipline children by tying them to trees and beating them. The little ones get such scraps of food as the hogs do not need.

Not every so-called religious cult is true to name. When a lot of brutal adults band in promotion of some abnormal belief, it is not religion that inspires them.

Among recent bank robberies was one at Arcadia. The thieves were alien roughnecks. Receiving what they were after, they went away, with skins unperforated. In these days of spectacular crimes the affair seems a mere incident. The faithful reporter, desiring to lend it color and tone implies that the band was under the leadership of "a young and beautiful woman."

Evidence in support of this theory is the fact that there are young and beautiful women in California.

Now it is a school superintendent at Atlantic City who has undertaken to forbid teachers to wear bobbed hair. Whether they wear it or not is exactly none of his business. His name ought to have been Buttinsky.

There is a wholly unnecessary fuss being made about bobbed hair, as though it were an innovation. People of middle age will remember at least two different periods when it became the vogue. Nobody raised a row over it, however.

A woman's hair, whether by natural process or purchase, is her own. She has an inherent right to arrange it in any manner that suits her, and to tell the chap who seeks to interfere, to toddle along about his personal concerns.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

This morning I got into conversation with the head of an American railroad. By "head" I mean president. He is gray-haired, wrinkled, pink-skinned, bright-eyed, full of pep and still young. His railroad is a little one, but never mind. Watch that boy go!

"They don't like us very well over there," I said. I meant in Europe and Mexico and Canada and the Virgin Islands and wherever else we go that isn't home. There was a sort of a sneering edge in my voice. I didn't say it, but my thought was that no one liked us because we are so good looking and so smart and so honest and so enterprising and so warm-hearted—so all of those things that foreigners are not. I pulled out the Pharisee stop in my vocal organ and let the note of pride ring. You remember—or you ought to remember—the Pharisee. It was he who was grateful that:

"I am not as other men."

The young railroad president almost bit me.

"You bet they don't like us," said he. "And do you know why?"

Before I had a chance to tell him he told me.

"Because as a nation we have less courtesy than any other white folks in the world," said he. "I mean it. The Englishman is the only one who approaches us in absolute disregard of his neighbors' feelings. The German is next to him. But when you're looking for folks who run all over any one they come in contact with pick an American. Do you know what the Guatemalans call us?"

"I do not."

"They call us 'machos,'" said he. "A 'machos' is a he-mule. There is no more stubborn, hard-headed, heavy-footed, unreasonable, stiff-necked animal in the world than the 'machos.' He gallops heavy-hoofed down any street he wants to gallop on, and he gallops over everything that is in his way."

Maybe he is right. Maybe we are just what he said we are. I haven't discovered that any of these nations suspect for a moment that they are not just what we say loudly we are in the matter of perfection, but they are a bit more kindly about expressing it. They only hint to us that we are a set of barbarians, whereas we stand on the corners and tell the world they are a race of sans.

Come to think about it, maybe that hard-headed, brass-cheeked quality of ours accounts for the fact that we do stand on almost every street corner in the world and tell 'em so—and get away with it.

DO YOU KNOW THAT?

CHRIST TEMPTED DESCRIBED BY REV. BROOKS

"The Pharisees came unto Jesus, tempting him and saying, is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause?" These are the opening words of Matthew 19. You will note the loose terms that are cunningly used for the purpose of entangling the Saviour. Everyone knows that the marriage tie is not to be cut by every little whim.

Jesus answered them, 'Have ye not read that he which made them at the beginning made them male and female? For this cause shall a man leave father and mother and shall cleave to his wife, and they twain shall be one flesh." He here sets His seal to the Genesis story. He goes back to the original facts of creation. Man and woman were created for permanent relationship to each other. They were not ieft to unite and separate as they might wish. God "made them male and female." They were one by creation before they were two. When they became one again by the marriage covenant, that oneness could ont but be closer and indissoluble.

This reference to the Old Testament has to do with Gen. 2:21, commonly known as "the rib story." Hebrew scholars have shown that the correct translation is, "He took one from his sides and closed the flesh instead of it. The word which has been translated "rib" in our English version, although used 42 times in the Old Testament, is never translated "rib" except in this place. The word means "flank" or "sides." In other words, the woman was taken from the flank of man, not the rib. When the rationalists ridicule the rib story they are not ridiculing the Bible, but a stupid mistranslation. Even those who have thought that t he one "bone" which Adam gave for his wife was the price of a marriage license, are in the wrong. The separation of Eve from the side of Adam may be an exceptional instance within the human race of what biologists have seen in lower orders. A cleft takes place in some part of the body, the organs divide, and two perfect individuals are formed.

Note that the man was to leave his father and mother and cleave to the woman. The word "cleave" means "to glue oneself." The difficulty nowadays is that in many cases only a weak mucilage is being used. God lays down a law which indicates the duty of husband to wife, not wife to husband. The modern idea is that the woman is called upon to part with everything, to go to an alien home, perhaps later to be negelected and left with her children to shift for herself. The Bible calls upon man for the sacrifices. In Bible times the man went to the woman to prove himself before she was taken from the protection of her own parents and friends. If the new son-in-law failed to demonstrate his ability to properly care for his wife, the old gentleman could pitch him out.

Note, again, Christ's words: "What God hath joined together, let not man put asunder." Marriage is more than a legal contract. It is an oath taken in the sight of God, making the parties directly responsible to God. Wedlock is a padlock. Let those who are contemplating running in double harness look well to the other horse before they are hitched up, for those who believe the Word of God have made a contract that is binding for life.

The question of divorce is then brought up and Jesus shows that Moses never meant to teach that divorce could be had except for one cause. The answer of Jesus' own disciples to this proposition is interesting: "If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry." Even His own disciples looked upon the ease of slipping the marriage noose as a sort of relief. They thought if there was to be no chance of getting loose, it would be better to stay single. This is a weak argument, a peevish suggestion. If crosses are to be woven in with the comforts of mar-

M. H. KENAGA'S BITHDAY CELEBRATED

M. H. Kenaga of 547 Oak street had a most happy celebration of his 82nd birthday Saturday when a group of his friends gathered at his home unexpectedly to him about noon and were welcomed by his daughter, Dr. Minerva Kenaga, who had arranged with a neighbor, Mrs. G. Guenther, to prepare a dinner for the guests that her father might be surprised. It was a good old-fashioned home-cooked dinner and was thoroughly enjoyed by the nine celebrants for whom places were laid.

A basket of California roses, the gift of Mrs. O. W. May, centered the board and a beautiful birthday cake told the tale of the years, for across the top blazed the figures "82." Around the board were gathered the honoree, his daughter, Dr. Minerva Kenaga, and brother Daniel, three nieces, Mrs. George Green and husband of Long Beach, Miss Katherine Kenaga of Pasadena and Mrs. Grant Clapperton and little son Bobbie of Kankakee, Ill., and a friend, Dr. Caroline Payne Jackman of Glendale.

At the close of the meal Mr. Green read the following message of love from the only surviving sister of the guest of honor, and his brother, D. H. Kenaga, the poetess being Mrs. L. A. Carrothers:

"Dear Brother:
"I hope 'tis not too late
To remember your birthday at this date
With a few lines from Sister Lou
To celebrate the 8th of April, 1922.
Am having dear thoughts today
Of the brother, far, far away,
Surrounded by friends on his 82nd birthday.
The years have not all been filled with sunshine bright,
Though you have always tried to do the right.
The time will come fhen the Father will say, 'Well done, Enter into joy, my son.'
Good wishes to each one.
Lovingly, Sister Lou."

Although Mr. Kenaga is 82 years young he drives about Glendale in an electric runabout, does the family marketing, cares for his garden and chickens and fulfills all his duties as a useful Christian citizen. He has many friends to wish him joy and health on his journey to the century mark.

THE SLATES HONOR MR. AND MRS. ANDERSON

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Slate of 1151 North Columbus avenue entertained Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Anderson and Vernon Anderson of 247 North Orange street at a birthday dinner Sunday in honor of Mr. Anderson's 72nd birthday. H. T. Anderson is the father of Mrs. Slate and the guests were other relatives.

MISS MOREHOUSE WED TO ETHAN WILSON

The residence of M.. and Mrs. M. Morehouse, 1000 East Lomita avenue, was the scene of a pretty home wedding Saturday night at 8:30, when their granddaughter, Miss Adele Morehouse, became the bride of Ethan Wilson.

Garbed in a gown of white crepe de chine over which her wedding veil fell from a crown of orange bloom, and carrying a shower bouquet of bride roses and white sweet peas, Miss Morehouse was a beautiful and typical bride. Attending her as maid of honor was Miss Esther Hoke, dressed in pink taffeta and carrying pink sweet peas. Willard Wilson, brother of the groom, acted as best man, and the wedding march was played by Mrs. Herbert Langdon, sister of the groom.

The ceremony took place under a canopy of asparagus fern from which a white floral bell was suspended. Rev. C. E. Cornell, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, Pasadena, and an old friend of the bride and groom, officiated. Flowers were everywhere—sweet peas, fresias, bridal wreath, roses and fern, making a pretty setting for an event so momentous to the two young people whose lives were being united.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Morehouse, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, parents of the groom, Miss Harriet Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson, Mr. and Mrs Herbert Langdon, Miss Grace Delight Langdon, Master Robert Langdon, Mr. Maxey Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mason, Mrs. Hoke, and Master Glen Morehouse, all of Los Angeles; Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Cornell, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Widmark, Master Glen Widmark, all of Pasadena; Miss Lottie Morehouse, Mr. and Mrs. M. Morehouse and Miss Bernie Morehouse of Glendale.

The hostess was assisted in the entertainment of the wedding guests by Mrs. Widmark and Miss Bernie Morehouse.

TEXANS REUNION

All who ever lived in the Lone Star state are called to meet under the auspices of the Texas State Society for a great picnic reunion, all day Saturday, April 22, 1922, in Sycamore Grove Park. This wil celebrate our great San Jacinto day anniversary. Come as early as you can and spend the day with friends. We will have county registers and headquarters so you can find the old neighbors even with thousands present.

There will be a brief program opening about 2 o'clock—songs and short talks. Dr. H. S. Adair, president, will preside and have charge of the day. The main purpose will be to have a good time and to let the people do the talking. We want to see all the tourists and visitors from the old home.

Brink your basket well filled. Coffee will be served free to all who buy the silk souvenir badges.

Each one who learns of this is asked to pass the word along. Further information may be had of C. H. Parsons, secretary of the federation of state societies, office in the Continental National Bank, Main and Ninth streets. Phone 10261, where the great Texas state register may be seen.

APPLE FRITTERS

One and one-half cups sifted flour. one tablespoon sugar, two teaspoons baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one well beaten egg about three-fourths cup milk or sufficient to make drop batter, one tablespoon melted butter, two apples cut in one-fourth inch slices. Sift dry ingredients into bowl, add milk to egg and stir liquid into the dry ingredients beating thoroughly, add melted butter last. Cover slices of apple with butter, dip out by tablespoons and drop in deep fat heated so that a crumb of bread will brown in 60 seconds. Cook three or four minutes. Drain and sprinkle with powdered sugar. Any other fruit can be substituted for apples.

WEDDING SHOWER FOR MISS FRANK

Mrs. John Allen Legge and Mrs. C. O. Pulliam entertained with a social afternoon and shower for Miss Alice Frank Saturday. It was quite an informal affair at which the guests busied themselves with the pleasant task of covering with padded ribbons and other materials an armful of clothes hangers supplied by the hostesses, with the understanding that the prettiest product would receive a prize.

When all had been completed the prize, by common consent, went to the guest of honor, who was also presented with a shower of linen, including many beautiful articles.

At the close of the afternoon delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, the guest list including Mrs. W. Rattray, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. Faries, Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, Mrs. Harrison Frank, Mrs. Harriet Frank, Mrs. R. W. Meeker, Mrs. A. M. Beamon, Mrs. Sallie Braden, Mrs. C. O. Pulliam, Miss Myrtle Pulliam, and the guest of honor.

Sunday evening Miss Frank and her fiance, Harry James, were dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. Gwaltney at their home on Ardmore avenue, Los Angeles.

BARBARA'S

I'VE BEEN VERY MUCH INTERESTED in the different stages of development through which the Angel cakes, made at the SANITARY HOME BAKERY, 1102 East Broadway, have passed! You've no doubt noticed, how leathery, or tough, Angel cake becomes when cut? Well, then you'll appericate the glad tidings that at the Sanitary Home Bakery, you can now buy a wonderful Angel cake, delicious in flavor and just as light and feathery as ever—but one that may also be cut easily! They've been experimenting for some time, and at last—comes the perfect article! Sanitary Bakery cakes are really delicious, and moderately priced! Why, do you know, they use only fresh ranch eggs and fresh milk and real cream? Yes, indeed, and that, combined with unusual skill—accounts for the popularity of the new Sanitary Home Bakery!

CHOCOLATE FILLING

One and one-half squares chocolate, 1 cup powdered sugar, 2 tablespoons milk, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla. Melt the chocolate, add one-half of the sugar, and the milk. Stil until smooth. Add the remainder of the sugar and cook over hot water 20 minutes, then add the vanilla.

OF COURSE YOU'RE ALWAYS HUNGRY when you return from the Sunday automobile drive—and usually too tired to cook much! That's when you'll appreciate the PURITY BAKERY, at 718 East Broadway—for they remain open all day Sunday, you know! It is a joy to be able to run up there, buy some delicious fresh rolls, a home-made cake or pie, maybe some cookies for the children—and when the coffee's done—you've a tasty supper all prepared! Yes, you know everything is baked fresh there on Sunday—so you'll never need to worry again, lest the bread runs short, or the cake fails! Remember the Purity Bakery!

A-HA—you've guessed right—it is one of those wonderful cakes about which I've been raving so—from the VIRGINIA BAKE SHOP—632 East Broadway! When the children have birthdays, or we're entertaining a number of guests, I just stop at the Virginia Bake Shop, explain the occasion—and the result is a specially designed cake such as this! Mr. Balladeau will take great pains to arrange a color decoration that will harmonize and add to the attractiveness of the table—and the cake itself is made of the most wholesome ingredients—and well baked! Your friends will be delighted if you make the Virginia Bake Shop your "standby"—and you yourself will find it most economical!

IT'S BARBARA, Mrs. Glendale—and I'm bringing an Easter basket, filled with the Season's greetings as well as a multitude of goodies gathered here and there in the shops and markets of Glendale! The merchants of Glendale, I'm thinking, have centered all their efforts on making this Easter Sunday a happy one for all—and hence they've given me suggestions without number for the Easter dinner! Come, let us quickly unpack the BASKET—that we may uncover this wealth of treasurer I've found in the markets!

DEPENDABILITY, first, last and always, is the chief characteristic you should seek in a butcher! And have you noticed how many many people deal entirely with Mr. Ingledue of the GLENDALE MEAT MARKET? "For why"—do you think? Because they know, from experience that Mr. Ingledue is always particular to accept none but the choicest of meats—and these he offers at prices that are rated with the lowest in town! When quality and service have been considered, I do believe you'll find the Glendale Meat Market about the cheapest in town—for there, Quality is supreme, and the service is excellent! Call Glendale 1230 for the delivery service!

YES, I MUST ADMIT THAT I AM A VERITABLE CRANK on coffee—it must be good or I can't enjoy it! But, you know, I'm simply wedded to that delicious blend prepared especially for the GATEWAY MARKET GROCERY, at the corner of San Fernando road and Brand boulevard—for it is wonderful! You'll find it entirely satisfying—with a flavor every bit as delightful as the tempting aroma which characterizes it! Next time you're in need of coffee, stop in at the Gateway Market and buy a pound, I know you'll be delighted, too! And if you can't get out to do your buying, just phone Glen. 2361-W—the Gateway Market—and they'll give your order immediate personal attention. Their delivery is free!

"SEE CASWELL FOR YOUR SUNDAY DINNER MEATS"—applies also to your Easter Sunday chicken! If you'll just call Glendale 2361-W and tell Mr. Caswell your wishes for Easter Sunday dinner—and the number of guests you're expecting, he'll then be able to secure for you, in plenty of time, a delicious fresh chicken or rabbit—just the right size! And you know there's one satisfaction about trading at CASWELL'S GATEWAY MEAT MARKET—the corner of San Fernando road and Brand boulevard—they only carry the very first quality meats—at exceptionally low prices!

I'LL NEVER BE THROUGH TALKING about the "goodies" we buy at the GATEWAY MARKET BAKERY—the corner of San Fernando road and Brand boulevard! Why, my dear, they do make the most delicious pastries, and quite the most tempting cakes and pies I've tasted in ages! Do you know that everything is baked in the kitchen right there—just as spic and span as Mother's own—and with the very latest and most modern electric ovens and mixers, too! You'll enjoy going through their kitchen, methinks—so just stop in next time you're shopping at the Gateway Market and ask to be shown through the bakery department—'twill be an education in itself!

as described in Resolution of Intention No. 1381, to which said Resolution reference is hereby made for a description of said work.

The Council of the City of Glendale determines that serial bonds shall be issued to represent assessments of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) or over for the cost of said work or improvement; said serial bonds shall extend over a period ending nine (9) years from and after the second day of January next succeeding the date of said bonds, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable by coupon on the second day of January every year after their date until the whole is paid; and the interest shall be payable semi-annually, by coupon on the second days of January and July, respectively, of each year, at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum on all sums unpaid, until the whole of said principal and interest is paid. All of the herein proposed work shall be done in pursuance of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, designated as the "Improvement Act of 1911," approved April 7, 1911, and amendments thereto.

Reference is hereby made to Resolution of Intention No. 1420 for further particulars of said work.

Bidders must file with each proposal or bid a check payable to the City of Glendale, certified by a responsible bank, for an amount which shall not be less than ten (10) per cent of the aggregate of the proposal, or a bond for said amount and so payable, signed by the bidder and two sureties, who shall justify before any officer competent to administer oaths, for double the said amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions.

In bidding use blanks which will be furnished by the City Clerk upon application.

Dated this 7th day of April, 1922.

A. J. VAN WIE,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

NOTICE INVITING STREET WORK PROPOSALS

Pursuant to Statute and to Resolution No. 1451 of the Council of the City of Glendale, California, adopted the 6th day of April, 1922, directing this notice, the undersigned invites and will receive at his office in the City Hall, No. 619 East Broadway, near Glendale Avenue, up to 7:00 P. M. of Thursday, the 20th day of April, 1922, sealed proposals or bids for the following improvement, to be done according to Specifications and Plans adopted for the said work, on file, to-wit:

The work on

WESTERN AVENUE FROM THE NORTHERLY CURB LINE OF SAN FERNANDO ROAD TO THE MOST SOUTHERLY CURB LINE OF FOURTH STREET, AND FROM THE MOST NORTHERLY CURB LINE OF FOURTH STREET TO THE SOUTHERLY CURB LINE OF TENTH STREET

described in Resolution of Intention No. 1408, of the City of Glendale, to which said Resolution reference is hereby made for a description of said work.

SECTION 2. The district to be assessed to pay the cost and expenses of said work and improvement is described in Resolution of Intention No. 1408, to which said Resolution reference is hereby made for further description of said assessment district.

SECTION 3. Bonds will be issued as provided for in said Resolution of Intention No. 1408.

SECTION 4. The Glendale Daily Press, a daily newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in said City of Glendale, is hereby designated as the newspaper in which this Resolution and notice inviting street work proposals shall be published in the manner and form and by the persons required by law.

SECTION 5. The City Clerk of the City of Glendale is hereby directed to post conspicuously for five days on or near the chamber door of the Council, in the manner and form required by law, a notice with Specifications, inviting street work proposals or bids for doing said work; and said City Clerk is hereby directed to publish for two days in said newspaper hereby designated for that purpose, as aforesaid, in the manner and in the form required by law, a notice of said work inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing said work, and referring to the Specifications posted or on file.

Said notice shall require all proposals or bids offered to be accompanied by a certified check or bond, either, as prescribed by law, and for an amount not less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposal. Said City Clerk is also hereby directed to publish this Resolution for two days, in the manner required by law, in said newspaper designated for that purpose, as aforesaid.

Adopted and approved this 6th day of April, 1922.

SPENCER ROBINSON,
Mayor of the City of Glendale.
Attest: A. J. VAN WIE,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

Mail Want Ad

Write your advertisement in the blank spaces below, just as you want it to appear in the Want Ad columns. Tell your story completely and convincingly if you want to accomplish quick results. Three days' insertion produces more replies than one; a week's insertion is best of all.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES
First Insertion—Minimum charge 30 cents, including four lines, counting five words to the line. Additional lines 5 cents per line.
Subsequent Consecutive Insertions—5 cents per line.
Minimum charge for each subsequent insertion, 15 cents.

Do you want a "blind" or keyed address used? Amount enclosed .....

Glendale Daily Press Want Ads are accepted by telephone or may be brought to our office. This blank is for the benefit of the person who finds it more convenient to fill his "Want" by mail.

How to Figure Your Want Ad
Count five average words to each line. The address at the foot of your Want Ad is counted also. Each number, initial, etc., counts as one word. For example, the name, "John C. Smith," is three words; "212 W. Main Street" is four words; "160 acres, 3 miles from railroad, $300 per acre," is nine words, etc. In case you want a keyed or "blind" address used instead, indicate so above. The "blind" address comprises five words and will be counted as part of your advertisement.

BOY SCOUTS OF TROOP NO. 2 GET POLE

Gift of A. A. Barton Is Planted and Flag Raising Scheduled

The boys of Troop No. 2 were delighted to receive last week a wonderful 25-foot steel flagpole, surmounted by a golden ball, the gift of A. A. Barton, one of the troop's committeemen. It is one of which the troop may well be proud and a worthy support of the flag of their country.

The pole was planted Saturday by scouts in charge of Scoutmaster Benjamin Robison, and there will be a flag-raising with appropriate ceremonies this week. It will also celebrate other gifts for on Friday morning the boys of the troop were made happy by the arrival of a beautiful new flag from J. J. Berliner, an Oklahoma oil magnate, who is interested in California oil in association with Attorney Charles L. Chandler, one of the scout council.

While visiting Mr. Chandler in Verdugo Woodlands he saw the troop's clubhouse on Mr. Chandler's property and became interested. Some time ago he sent the troop twelve chairs, and with this gift of the flag came 24 more chairs, two canvas hiking baskets and two fine canteens.

The boys are most appreciative of the donations and of the friendship of the two men mentioned.

PEOPLE

353 Pioneer Drive, Glendale, Cal.
April 5, 1922.

Editor Glendale Press: Just a few lines to express appreciation for the splendid write-up of the 1st District Conference held in Glendale yesterday.

It was an honor to have the National President of the Congress of Mothers in our city and I am so glad that the "Press" considered it of enough interest to give it so much valuable space. I know that every one of the 2700 members of the P.-T. A. in Glendale will enjoy having a copy for themselves and many outside the city have asked to receive copies.

Thank you and the paper which you represent for your splendid co-operation.

Sincerely,
CATHERINE B. HENRY,
Presiding Chairman 1st Dist.

YOUNG FOLKS TAKE HIKE UP BIG TUJUNGA

Thrills and Palpitations Experienced by Guests at Novel Outing

TUJUNGA, April 10.—Several young people of Tujunga and Pasadena enjoyed a hike up the Big Tujunga Saturday night which proved unique in all its features. Don Wieman and Carroll Parcher were hosts at the affair and the guests included Mr. and Mrs. Wallie Wieman, Miss Helen Franke, Miss Frances Morgan, Bob Walker and Miss Frances Davis.

The guests were blindfolded and taken in autos by devious routes to the canyon. Stops were made at times for walks, supposedly over narrow bridges or along steep precipices. A murder scene was staged at the camp with Howard Rich and Bob Smellie taking the parts of the murdered and murderer. A thrilling rescue was effected.

The guests were all given Indian names, which were printed on place cards of bark and bark trays were used in serving.

The menu consisted of fruit cocktail, steaks, potato salad, relish, jello and chocolate. Cups were fashioned from yucca stalks and spoons and sugar bowl from wood.

The Verdugo Hills Business association held its April meeting on Friday evening at the studio of the Tujunga Gift Crafters on Alta Vista street.

A large number of the members were present and discussed important local questions as well as becoming familiar with the details of the Gift Crafters industry.

Mr. Simons, founder of the Simons Brick company of Los Angeles, passed away at his Los Robles avenue home last Wednesday. Mr. Simons is mourned by a large family as well as by multitudes of friends in Tujunga and elsewhere.

NEW PARTY ENTERS BURBANK ELECTION

Business Men's and Citizen's Committee Endorses Candidates

At the last moment a new ticket has been placed in the political field and it is sponsored by a body of citizens called the "Business Men's and Citizens' Committee." The names which are endorsed by the committee are: J. C. Crawford and H. W. Rouscup for terms of four years and Orville Myers and E. J. Jackson for terms of two years. It is claimed by members of this body that three of the four have been tried and proven and have made a better and bigger Burbank and there is no guess work in their election. It is also said by a prominent member that anti-annexation is the slogan of the ticket and this means an individual sewer plant for the city. The claim is made that the Business Men's and Citizens' Committee has the backing of many of the leading business men of the city.

A Year Ago Today

From the Glendale Daily Press of April 10, 1921.

The city manager urged the board of trustees to develop the water of Verdugo canyon. He urged that the work be done in cooperation with other owners and said that the cost of the city's portion would be approximately $100,000.

City Manager Thomas Watson submitted a revision of the city's fire district to the board of trustees in anticipation of the new fire ordinance that body is contemplating adopting.

The arrow has been taken from the Glendale sign at the south end of the city. This was done, reports the highway committee of the chamber of commerce, to promote a greater feeling of friendship between the business men of the south and north ends of the city.

SELF STRONG

The noblest soul is that, like the red sun
That strives to pierce with light the mist and rain;
That though it fall ere now the goal is won
Yet rises up and struggles on again.

That is not discontent but nobly calm,
That not despairs, but hopes on through it fears,
Finds in an endless patience still a balm
For pain and strives on through its flowing tears.

That in the armor of its faith is strong,
That in its high approval finds reward,
Soothes Sorrow's slings and stingings with a song
And sees no chaff in its life harvest stored.

Come now my soul, ere yet the day be done
One struggle more, and be that one the best.
And if the fight be lost or if be won,
We shall have earned the peace of night and rest.

And we shall greet the dawn with hope, not fear,
And we shall meet the day with friendship, too,
And we shall gladden some sad soul with cheer,
Press on till dark—and know dreams will come true.

FROST DAMAGES RAISIN CROPS

Fresno, April 10.—Incomplete reports received by the Sun Maid Raisin Growers' headquarters here up to early today showed damage running as high as 40 per cent done to grape vines Sunday morning by heavy frosts.

The heaviest damage was reported west of Dinuba.

The Clovis, Vineland and Barstow districts escaped practically unhurt. Young Thompson Seedless vines seemed to have suffered the most, particularly around Reedley. Peach trees escaped undamaged.

IRISH LAD GETS BACK AT 'KID' YOUNG

Says Some One Got Wires Crossed; Willing to Meet Anyone

"Kid Irish," Saturday challenged to a bout on the mat by "Kid" Young of Glendale, issued an acceptance today through the Glendale Daily Press. His acceptance follows:

"After reading the Saturday edition of the Glendale Press, I have come to the conclusion that some one has got the wires crossed, and if you will grant me a little space in your paper, I would like to straighten things out.

"It seems that some one signing himself "Kid Young" wants a match to see who is supreme on the wrestling mat, and I am very willing that he should find out, but I do not like the insinuations that come with the challenge.

"He claims that he tried to arrange a match with me a year ago and that I would not come across.

"Let me answer that first, by saying that the only challenge I received was from "Young" King of Glendale and the reason I could not take him on was because I was under contract with my company to leave for Washington, D. C., on the day following the challenge.

"Furthermore, I would like to state that I was not with a carnival company, "meeting all comers," as he stated, but that I had come here at the request of a member of the American Legion to compete against the wrestler who was meeting all comers.

"I came and I conquered, and I am ready to try my skill against "Young King," or "Kid Young," if it is the same party, any time he wishes to go, provided some established organization handles the match.

"I will wrestle either by rounds (White rules) or to a finish, best two falls out of three, on any basis he likes, and winner take all is the one way I prefer.

"I thank you for the courtesy of your space. I beg to remain, yours for clean sports,

"'KID IRISH.'"

CHRIST TEMPTED SERMON SUBJECT

ried life, of course there are some who would want to stay single. The Lord answers that while there are some cases in which marriage is not advisable, the disciples' idea of single blessedness is not feasible. "All men cannot receive that saying."

Jesus' words concerning allowing little children to come to Him naturally follows the subject of marriage. "Suffer little children and forbid them not to come unto me." Ninety percent of the active Christians were saved when they were children. The children's church of today will be the abiding church of tomorrow. Give the devil his choice between a man and a boy, and he will take the boy any time. God help our parents today to get out of the way and let the children come to Christ.

Last Word on Near East Bundle Gifts

Glendale citizens having bundles of used clothing and shoes to donate to Near East Relief may do so up to and including May 20, and are asked to deliver the articles to the nearest school building, or if unable to do so are asked to phone Rev. Mottern, Glendale 1513-W, who will be glad to call.

GLENDALE IS HOST TO 200 DELEGATES

Newport company. Upon being requested to give a brief talk on Verdugo he stated that the old adobe house was some 116 years old and that the famous vine which was in view of the gathering was growing 118 years, and still going, "so you see things in Glendale grow. I cannot, if you decide to locate here, promise a life in excess of 118 years, but I will guarantee you at least 100."

W. L. Twinning, manager of the F. P. Newport company, also made a brief address.

After partaking of an excellent Spanish repast which was enjoyed by all, a rising vote of thanks was tendered the bus men, R. B. Fageol and C. M. Crossort, by Nathan Newby, president of the Los Angeles City club, for their cooperation and willingness to donate their super buses for the occasion.

V. M. Hollister, president of the local Chamber of Commerce, briefly expressed on behalf of that organ the desire to co-operate in every respect with the heads of the City Club in the further promoting of suburban days.

Dr. Jessie Russell, in a brief talk, pledged her support and cooperation and hoped that all other suburban days would be as successful as Glendale's, to which Mr. Abbot said that other cities would have to go some to exceed Glendale as a suburban day centre.

City Manager Reeves sincerely thanked the suburban day committee of the City Club for the honor conveyed upon Glendale and upon being asked why Glendale was so well advertised, replied: "See that smiling countenance over there ,indicating Mayor Robinson), that's the best 'ad' Glendale ever had." Of course Mayor Robinson reciprocated and said many nice things about Mr. Reeves.

Councilman W. T. Sanborn of Los Angeles made a brief speech and stated that Los Angeles will be glad at all times to co-operate with Glendale in all civic matters.

Present at this function in Verdugo Woodlands were prominent representatives from practically all of the suburban cities, which included in part: J. A. Hubbard, fire chief of Venice; Iris C. Jackson, of Santa Monica; W. L. L. Geldert, fire commissioner of Venice and Santa Monica; Peter C. Brown, of Huntington Park; C. W. Sirch, engineer of the Los Angeles City club; S. C. Kyle, vice-president of the National Axle Corporation, San Jose; Ralph Bennett, of the firm Bennett & Duling, consulting engineers, Los Angeles; T. L. Dudley, secretary-treasurer F. P. Newport company, Los Angeles; J. C. Barthel, postmaster of Venice; Gordon Whitnall, secretary consultant of the City Club; Robertson Abbot and wife, mayor of Eagle Rock; Elizabeth Peltret, a magazine writer of note; Mrs. Wyllis S. Abbott of Venice; B. F. Hulse, inventor.

The assembly then adjourned to various parts of Glendale and 7:30 o'clock found them all eagerly awaiting the program that was to be given in the auditorium of the high school. The hall was filled to capacity owing to the fact that several intensive issues were to be discussed by noted speakers. Mr. Abbot opened the meeting and again addressed the gathering.

"It is the intention of Venice," said Mr. Abbot, "to provide an adequate road to that city whereby motorists of Glendale would have easy access, and eliminate the necessity of having to go through the congested districts as is the case at present." This proposed road idea met with instant approval and Mr. Abbot was warmly applauded. "I extend, on behalf of myself and other delegates to the grand folks of Glendale my hearty thanks and appreciation for the many favors granted us today. It is my most sincere wish that you all be the guests of Venice and Santa Monica Saturday, May 13, when we will have the next suburban day and a program de luxe is guaranteed. A special demonstration will be given by the firemen of both cities. This day will be known as Fireman's Suburban Day and I want you Glendale people especially to be our guests, as we need you in order to assure a real gala day." From the applause that ensued it was evident that Glendale will be there to a man on May 13.

A. D. Gulick in a short speech said "that although the bus permit was denied there are still ways and means to put it over." I feel confident that with the assistance of the mayor and city council, chamber of commerce and the many other interested bodies, it will be 'put over.'"

Mayor Spencer Robinson was at this time asked to sing, but upon perceiving Harry Girard and his wife, he insisted that these artists be given the preference. "Popples," the latest "hit" of F. B. (Dudley) Silverwood was sung beautifully in duet, and for an encore, which was demanded, Mr. Girard sang in duet with Mayor Robinson.

F. L. Platt, secretary and manager of the Mortor Carriers' Association, was the next speaker. His topic, "Motorized Transportation" proved unique, the message "got across" with impressiveness coupled with what that "something" found only in the minds of great men. He said in part:

"It is evident that the people of today have heeded the age old cry for better transportation facilities. This is easily proven since practically every community is clamoring for a bus line. Most of them have their buses—for today you can travel to the remotest sections where railroads do not, or never will reach.

"Do you remember the days when pony drawn vehicles traveled across the continent to deliver the mail? Following in the wake of these, came the stage coaches drawn by 5 or 6 horses; then came the steam car. It was found unsitable, so the electric railways were started and a subsequent war between the steam car and the electric propelled vehicles ensued. The electric car was a step ahead so it won the great battle. The wheels of progress can't be blocked, so Henry Ford came and with his coming transportation was completely revolutionized and his flivver did more for transportation than any other power in the last quarter of a century, with the gradual tendency toward motorized transportation. The propaganda as sent broadcast by the railroads to curb the motor bus has resulted in little or no damage.

"The railway companies claim that motor buses are a detriment on their earning capacity. The reason for their deficit, which is growing worse every year, is there are enough privately owned motor cars in the state of California to carry everybody to and from a given point; 700,000 private cars and 50,000 commercial trucks in California have eaten into the coffers of the electric cars. Yes, even the railroads, and the destruction of them, the trucks not the motor buses as the railroad attorneys would have it, are responsible. The slow, crunching movements of commerical trucks destroy the beautiful highways; the buses and otned motor drawn vehicles, which at all times proceed swiftly, therefore lessening the compact and no resultant damage is wrought by them.

"The future development of Southern California depends upon motorized transportation. The associated chambers of commerce heartily endorse this as do all progressive communities. The wheels of progress cannot be blocked and the day is fast approaching when we will win out in the matter of buses. They are here, and will continue to stay—these big vehicles of the age."

Mr. Platt was warmly applauded and hoped that Glendale, although denied the permit to operate the proposed bus line, would continue to put every effort in the fight. This was evident from the hearty applause that followed. He felt confident that in the end we would have a bus line.

W. R. Mitchell, of the Los Angeles City club, in dwelling upon the sewage problem, said:

"All city sewage will have to be disposed of through sanitary methods made possible by the invention of what is known as the dehydrator, which apparatus answers every question in regard to sewage disposal. Already many and various experiments have been made by several Los Angeles county health officials and they have proved highly satisfactory." Burbank, Culver City, Alhambra and several other suburban cities have plants which house this instrument, and it is becoming vastly popular. His talk was supplemented by many interesting photos shown on the screen erected for the purpose and in addition a very educational film was projected, which dealt largely on the "rat menace."

Owing to the lateness, and the fact that many had to travel as far as Long Beach, it was deemed advisable to terminate the meeting. Glendale's suburban day was grand and glorious from start to finish, and all were highly satisfied with the entire program.

FILMLAND CLAIMS GLENDALE SCENE FOR SHOW

"Old Lavender's Faith" Director Calls for Local Sets

Members of the Hollywood movie colony will watch rehearsals of "Old Lavender's Faith" at the Pearl Keller school, 109-A North Brand boulevard this evening. Mr. Taylor will shoot his first scene next week with the most beautiful home in Glendale as a background.

Do you want to see your home in the movies? Then bring snap shots of your house and grounds to the Glendale Daily Press office. Mr. Taylor will select from many beautiful homes.

Those joining the motion picture classes tonight or Thursday will appear in this scene. Other scenes are in front of our leading churches; also a street scene that has the Daily Press and the News office as back ground.

Messrs. Norton & Norton of Los Angeles, trustees of the Old Lavender fund, will witness the rehearsals this evening in company with their families.

The children's class Saturday at the Pearl Keller school will also appear in the scenes to be shot next week.

BATTLE AGAINST RAIL WAGE CUT

CHICAGO, April 10.—The battle against the railroad drive to cut wages of shop workers was outlined at the annual convention of the railroad department of the American federation of labor meeting here today. The meeting is expected to continue two weeks.

The shop workers were also expected to take up the claim that railroads are "farming out" shop work under contract in order to evade decisions of the United States railroad labor board.

UNSCENTED SHIRTS

CHICAGO, April 10.—G. B. Woodworth, detective of Danville, Ill., asked police to help him find two dozen silk shirts which had been stolen. "I tried bloodhounds but of no avail," he wrote.

Most of the fun we have in life isn't the kind we are looking for.

PURITY

Once again we have proven that our slogan of the BEST MILK FOR BABY is true, as Lutge Bros. Milk of Burbank has again been awarded FIRST PLACE in the Los Angeles Health Dept. scorings covering the past four months with the wonderful score of 98.3, which covers Bacteria, Flavor and Odor, Fat, Sediment, Solids, not fat, Temperature street samples, Acidity prepared samples, Bottle and Cap. This is the same milk that won us FIRST PLACE at the recent San Fernando Fair with a score of 97.6, competing with 33 other dairies. If you are not getting this pure milk your family is not getting the best.
